

Joe Brooks

Pink Sky Moon

Monday, October 12th - For Immediate Release

With over 100 million combined streams across his career, British singer/songwriter, Joe Brooks returns four years on from his I Am Bones EP with Pink Sky Moon, a new single filled with the same heart and soul his fans have come to know and love. After winning international acclaim in the form of three songwriting awards in 2016, Brooks now presents a vibrant nostalgia delicately painted through poetic lyrics and a soundscape to match. We hear him pour over past memories of young love. Brooks leaves the track humble and uncomplicated before the instrumentation begins to grow with the story. As the song swirls through a majestic bridge and final chorus, Brooks walks a subtle line between fond reminiscence and wistful affections of the past.

'Music has always been and will forever be my first love, it provides a kind of fulfillment I've struggled to achieve elsewhere. Returning with Pink Sky Moon is a proud moment for me.'

Written and performed by Joe Brooks and produced by Stuart Brawley in Los Angeles; Pink Sky Moon is set for independent release across all streaming platforms on Friday, October 16th. A music video and further releases are anticipated before the end of the year.

Links

www.joebrooks.com

www.instagram.com/joebrooksmusic

Stats

Spotify: 150,000 Monthly Listeners & 52,000 Followers

Facebook: 218,000 Followers

Twitter: 52,000 Followers

Instagram: 21,000 Followers

Vevo: 120,000 Subscribers

Youtube: 60,000 Subscribers

